DETAILED ACTION

1. It is noted that this action is final because, though the most recent amendment filed June 25, 2009 renders the election requirement moot, the requirement was prompted by a previous amendment to the claims after a non-final action was mailed on July 14, 2008.

Election/Restrictions

2. The election requirement is rendered moot by the cancellation of claims 20-33.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

4. Claims 1, 4, 5 and 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Zoromski et al (CA 2,278,867 A).

With respect to claim 1: Zoromski discloses an article 10 to be worn about a wearer comprising the following: a surface fastening system in the form of fasteners having a primary direction 26 of load bearing, the surface fastening system including a first surface fastening element 36 and a second surface fastening element 50 on the front waist region, the first fastening element 36 being joined to the article, the second fastening element 50 being disposed so as to be generally in a face to face relationship with the first fastening element 36 when the surface fastening system is in an engaged configuration to fasten at least a portion of the article, the first surface fastening element 36 further including an effective dimension Y extending substantially parallel to a longitudinal axis of the article, the effective dimension Y increasing from a distal edge of the first fastening element to a proximal edge of the first fastening element 36. (Fig. 8, Abstract, Page 18, lines 19-22, Page 23, lines 26,27)

With respect to claim 4: The first fastening element 36 further includes a first edge and a second edge, the first edge being offset from the second edge in the direction of effective dimension Y, wherein the first edge is longer than the second edge. (Fig. 8)

With respect to claim 5: A portion of the second fastening element 50 is unjoined from an underlying structure of the article inasmuch as Zoromski discloses that the second element 50 can be attached to the article by any means disclosed for attaching other components to one another (Page 37, lines 18-21), which includes intermittent bonding or attachment schemes such as adhesive bonding, clips and staples which yield portions between the bonds that are unjoined.

With respect to claim 8: Zoromski discloses that the article 10 further comprises a chassis including an absorbent member 32. (Page 7, lines 32-34)

With respect to claim 9: The article 10 disclosed by Zoromski is a diaper. (Page 7, lines 32-34)

With respect to claim 10: The article 10 disclosed by Zoromski is adapted to form a pant-like article inasmuch as it encircles the legs and has a waist opening.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment filed January 14, 2009 necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
